

Examrace: Downloaded from examrace.com

For solved question bank visit doorsteptutor.com and for free video lectures visit Examrace YouTube Channel

Right to Information for Competitive Exams Part 2

Get top class preparation for IAS right from your home: Get detailed illustrated notes covering entire syllabus: point-by-point for high retention.

Right to Information and Good Governance Issues

- Right to information is one of its own rights and empowers many other rights even when there are various issues of human rights and human development in good governance.
- The transparency of good governance is dependent on the right to direct information.
- Implementation assessment will be much stronger with the right to information and good governance and citizens and society will be more informed about governance and administration, therefore accountability will increase.
- Comparisons will be increased in relation to the best experience of good governance with the right to information.
- The right to information will increase the tendency of people to compete in public service for good governance.
- Increasing state and non-state partnerships will lead to the development of resources and human development.
- Consent can be strengthened by notification and consent is an integral part of governance
- These will make better calculations in terms of human development indicators and other indicators, therefore, accountability could increase
- This helps in curbing corruption.
- Right to information gives force to governance with which Smart Governance - Simple, Moral, Accountable, Responsible and Transparent Governance can be increased
- Public service prices are developed by the right of the information which is necessary for good governance.

Developed by: Mindsprite Solutions